

divinepowers

If I could turn back time ... Cher might have managed it by going under the knife who knows how many times, but for the rest of us it ain't that easy. However, Antipodes' certified organic Divine Face Oil has been clinically proven to be a powerful anti-ager. It is high in antioxidants to address signs of ageing and full of essential fatty acids Omega 9 to keep the skin strong and hydrated. Be young at heart for $33 at David Jones or www.antipodesnature.com

tapintostyle

Let's face it, we spend a lot of time in the kitchen so by adding a touch of designer style you can have a chic space to sizzle your stir fry. The Minimalist Spring Pull Down Sink Mixer with Twin Action Spray combines flawless design with timeless appeal. At the heart of the Minimalist range from Methven is the ceramic cartridge technology for reliability and performance, saving water without compromising visual aesthetic. Pour money down the drain for $550 at Bunnings.

spoonfed

Community website Quirky has done it again. MugStir is the 28th product designed and developed by the community since Quirky's launch in June last year. The portable spoon that hangs on the side of a coffee mug or cup of tea means you can do away with those icky communal spoons at work and avoid wasting a new plastic one every time you need to stir a hot beverage. Available in packs of three, buy online for $7.50 at quirky.com/products