mexican magic

Australian-made Ere Perez natural makeup can be found in most health stores, a fact which belies its exotic origins. The founder of the eponymous range learned about natural remedies at the knee of her grandfather, a medicine man, in Mexico. Two more of her grandparents were chemical biologists and Perez herself studied nutrition and natural therapies in Mexico for many years. All of which makes her uniquely qualified to put together a range of completely natural makeup that stands up to mainstream brands in performance. From tinted rice powders with SPF 15, to waterproof natural almond oil mascara, this makeup is safe, luxurious and reasonably-priced, with most items coming in under $25.
